2: Why was the admission cut-off age revised?

01

To achieve fairness and equal opportunities for all students

02

To support students' educational and social readiness

03

To ensure stability in academic progression and avoid disruptions to learning pathways

The decision was issued based on a recommendation from the Ministry of Education, as part of ongoing efforts to develop educational policies based on scientific methodologies. This followed a comprehensive technical and educational review that was based on:

Analysis of academic data for more than 39,000 students in schools

International benchmarking and studies of best practices

Extensive research on all aspects of children's readiness for early education

3: Who does the new cut-off apply to?

The new school admission age cut-off will take effect starting from the 2026–2027 academic year, and will apply to students who are not enrolled in the 2025-2026 academic year.

It will not apply to:

For children not registered in any school system, registration for Kindergarten stages is based on the child's age in the year of enrollment and the results of the approved assessment interview. In general, a child who has completed 5 years of age by December 31st of the enrollment year should be registered in KG2.

An exception is provided during the 2026-2027 academic year only for children born between September 1st and December 31st 2021 who have never been registered in any school system may be registered in either KG1 or KG2, following the approved procedures and the results of the assessment interview.

11 What happens if a child reaches the required age a few days after 31 December of the admission year?

12 Does the 31 December cut-off date apply to schools whose academic year starts in April?
